

Dear colleagues,

The Turkish Society for Radiation Oncology (TROD) President advises its members to attend the International Oncology Forum, organised by ESTRO, the European Society for Therapeutic Radiology & Oncology, from 8 to 12 May 2011 in London.

This scientific programme will offer a review of thirty years of radiation oncology in all the major tumour sites with discussion of the evidence base for existing treatments.

With a presentation of the best of clinical trials, this first conference will also offer a broad vision on future research projects that will eventually translate into new and better clinical options for our patients.

Positioned as a post-graduate training programme, the conference will therefore provide a unique educational opportunity allowing clinicians to get updated on all key issues in the field of radiation oncology.

Please mark in your calendar the important deadlines of the conference that are coming very soon:

- 8 December 2010 for the early registration
- 17 December 2010 for the abstract submission

You can find more information on the conference on the ESTRO website (www.estro-events.org).

We look forward to seeing you next May for a truly educational and informative symposium with colleagues with wide ranging interests in radiation oncology.

Best regards,

Prof.Dr. Faruk ZORLU
President of TROD
